INTRODUCTION TO THE STUDENT CHARTER,
UNIVERSITY OF KELANIYA

1.1 PURPOSE OF THE CHARTER

A student at the University of Kelaniya (UoK) reading for a degree is provided with opportunities to interact with members of the university community. The image and the reputation of the University among the general public will be determined by the conduct of students and staff of the university. Hence it is essential that the students are made aware of the responsibility for their actions that can have an impact on the image of the university and its university community

The Student Charter describes the University's aspirations and mutual expectations of staff and students, as they work together to achieve the University's Mission. Achieving the University's Mission is only possible through the respectful interactions of all members of the University community, with fair student representation and through active student participation in University life and community.

UoK recognizes and values the diversity of student experiences and expectations, and is committed to treating students, both academically and personally, in a fair and transparent manner. All students, in return, are required to comply with the student charter. UoK is committed to playing the dual role of producing young graduates and post-graduates with knowledge and wisdom to cater to the ever-increasing demand for human resources in the country, while fulfilling the aspirations of all those who seek higher education. The University undertakes this noble role by designing and offering high quality, relevant and well-recognized academic and/or professional qualifications in variety of disciplines with a basket of transferable and technical skills, with which the students could explore the boundary-less world that would provide young graduates with infinite opportunities to realize their full potential and aspirations.

1.2 THE VISION AND MISSION OF THE UNIVERSITY

Vision

To become a center of excellence in creation and dissemination of knowledge for sustainable development.

Mission

To nurture intellectual citizens through creativity and innovation, who contribute to the national development.

University of Kelaniya, on par with its vision and mission, is motivated to be the center of excellence in teaching and learning, research, and innovation thus contributing to social and economic upheaval of the country. The University is motivated to be the center of excellence for knowledge seekers of all age groups, creative minds, liberal thinkers, and opinion creators, cultural and literal intellects. The University is also considered as the center of new knowledge and all students and academic staff are strongly encouraged to engage in pursuing new trends, new knowledge, new ideas, and values. For this purpose, UoK is committed to establishing and sustaining a community that supports independent scholarly learning, critical judgment, academic integrity and ethical standards in all students. It strives to create an environment that involves students as active participants in their learning process with the objective facilitating students to excel in all aspects of learning and research.

1.3 GUIDING PRINCIPLES ON WHICH UNIVERSITY OF KELANIYA IS GOVERNED

In line with national policy initiatives and guidelines, all state universities are guided and managed adhering to the principles of openness, equality, and diversity while upholding democratic rights of individuals in conformity with civic norms and rights. The University strives to be a Center of Excellence in teaching and learning, aesthetic and cultural pursuits, research and development as well as outreach activities.

- UoK aims to create an appropriate environment for diverse groups of mature learners, to engage in higher learning and creative work with enthusiasm, excitement and harmony.
- University ensures that its community well aware and appreciative of the norms of the civil society, and in return expect the commitment of the community to act as socially-conscious and responsible citizens, complying with all forms of social norms expected in the civil society.

1.4 OPENNESS

- UoK is fully committed to providing all information regarding admission, academic programmes, evaluation procedures, recruitment criteria, method of recruitment and also about the entitlements, privileges, opportunities as well as grievance redress and disciplinary procedures.

1.5 EQUITY AND DIVERSITY

ACADEMIC ENVIRONMENT AND STUDENT SUPPORT SERVICES

University of Kelaniya provides a conducive academic atmosphere which promotes the realization of the full potential of students and staff. It offers a standard set of facilities, student services, and common amenities. The university is equipped with complementary learning centers and programmes to assist the undergraduates to obtain a 'basket' of complementary and transferable skills, namely, English language skills, information and communication technology skills, interpersonal skills, entrepreneurial skills, leadership skills, etiquette, personality traits, etc. The University will do its best to facilitate students to realize their full potential and to become global citizens.

For this purpose, the University allocates the highest portion of its resources for teaching and research activities. Students are encouraged to make the maximum use of the resources provided, while assuring their availability for future generations of students. Since many of the resources are limited it is envisaged that their distribution is done in a fair and just manner.

2.1 RESIDENTIAL/HOSTEL FACILITIES

- Hostel facilities are provided for a limited number of students for a nominal fee. Residential halls are situated within the university premises and outside of the university premise. Residential facilities include cafeteria services and, in some instances, kitchen space for those who wish to prepare their own meals.
- An academic staff member who serves as the academic warden of a hostel and a full-time sub warden ensure wellbeing of the students.
- At the beginning of each academic year, hostel committee is appointed under the patronage of the academic warden and full-time sub-warden. Reporting of welfare requests of the residential students and forwarding recommendations to the warden are the responsibilities of the President of the committee.

Residential students are strictly advised to adhere to the rules and regulations as stated in <https://administration.kln.ac.lk/stdwelfare/>

2.2 HEALTH SERVICE

- The university has in-house health service center to provide routine healthcare services and emergency services. All registered students and staff are entitled to free consultations, free basic medicinal drugs, laboratory service and other services.
- In instances where special medical care or emergency medical care is needed, these in-house health centers refer the students needing specialized healthcare to the North Colombo Teaching hospital, Ragama.

2.3 SECURITY AND SAFETY

- The students are ensured a safe environment through the security service of the University. Marshals and security officers are entrusted with maintaining security and safety of its employees, students, and assets of the university.
- All members of the university community should adhere to the regulations laid down to safeguard the safety and security within the University premises.

- At no time the no member of university community should undermine the authority of the security personnel in carrying out their duty.
- Any person must produce identification documents, if requested by security personnel within the university premises or its affiliations

SECTION

GOVERNANCE AND MANAGEMENT

University of Kelaniya was established, structured and governed by the provision granted by the Universities Act No.16 of 1978. University of Kelaniya like-wise of all other state universities is fully authorized and empowered to manage their core functions and to acquire the capacity to design, formulate, implement and deliver their services, and redress grievances and maintain discipline of students and staff.

University is equipped with result-focused administration and management with accountability and responsiveness to the stakeholders. It is capable of optimal use of resources (i.e. human, physical assets, technology and capital) to perform their core functions, defined by the institutions' mandate, vision and mission.

University of Kelaniya is fully aware that while it function as the centers of excellence in training future leaders who will shape the future of the country in all spheres, the students should also have a paramount role to play and function as role models of the university. However, due to misconduct by hand full of students of state universities in the past, university students are now strongly advised to follow the rules and regulations described in University by-laws to ensure the smooth functioning of universities, maintain the dignity of the national universities and finally to work towards achieving lifelong goals they have aspired from their childhood and fulfill the expectations of their loving parents.

3.1 POLICY OF WITHDRAWAL

On directives from the UGC, students are registered at admission as internal candidates. They are required to conduct their studies unequivocally at the faculty where they are registered for studies. The students are not allowed to register for any other degree programme of another university while pursuing a programme under registration as an internal candidate in one university. Requests for transfers from one university to another will be considered only in exceptional circumstances. Withdrawal from a registered course is discouraged as this will result in the idling-away of state resources and also precious opportunities provided to eligible students, as well as preventing another eligible student to achieve the dream of securing university education.

3.2 FREEDOM OF EXPRESSION

Freedom of expression is guaranteed for all university students. Therefore, all students are encouraged to form opinions and express their views on matters ranging from academic affairs, administrative and welfare issues and also on political and social issues and themes. However, such expressions should not go to the extent of personalizing or targeting individuals, because every person has the right to form opinions and express their views without antagonizing others.

3.3 STUDENT REPRESENTATIONS

Student representations at certain decision-making levels are guaranteed by the Universities Act No.16 of 1978 as amended. On matters of welfare concerns and on certain matters relating to the administrative and academic nature, students are entitled to make representations through the student representatives. Student representatives are required to sit in the Faculty Boards, Food and Canteen Committees, Security Committees, Hostel Committees, Sports Committees and, also in ad hoc committees for various events organized by the university.

3.4 RIGHT TO FORM STUDENTS ASSOCIATIONS

Right to form Student Associations is guaranteed by the Universities Act No.16 of 1978 as amended. Students are granted the right of forming or grouping into associations or societies or unions that are free of any vested or politically driven motivations. Similarly, the rights of students who wish to remain independent and disassociate themselves from such associations or societies are also guaranteed. The individual students' freedom of choice should be respected by students who wish to form associations and unions. Students are warned against obstructing the freedom of students who prefer to remain independent.

3.5 PERSONAL CONDUCT

Each individual making up the university community should fully understand the prestige of the institution and the self-esteem of its members. Therefore, all inhabitants should conduct themselves in a manner compatible with its quest or mission. Individuals need to be mindful of their personal hygiene, etiquette, dress or attire, speech, etc. No student should offend the feelings of fellow students or members of the community. It should also be remembered that people are free to dress or eat in a manner that is befitting their accepted cultural practices. As such, no one should impose their will on others to dress or to eat to suit one's own liking. Students must be polite in their words and actions and should allow space for all people to live in harmony. Offensive activities will be subject to the laws under the public nuisance framework and disciplinary regulations of the university.

3.6 MAINTENANCE OF DISCIPLINE AND LAW AND ORDER

University in general is the center of excellence in training and developing future leaders. Therefore, it is imperative that its inhabitants behave in a responsible and dignified manner, conforming to all norms and practices of the civil society. Further, they have to abide by all rules and regulations enacted by the university. All university students are required to adhere to the highest behavioral and ethical standards. They are expected to protect the good name of the university and should not indulge in any unethical, immoral and illegal activity that will bring disrepute to the university and at the same time irrevocably damage their future.

UNETHICAL AND UNLAWFUL ACTIVITIES THAT ARE PROHIBITED

Undergraduate students of the university are required to refrain from engaging or committing the following Unethical and Unlawful Activities which will result in disciplinary action by the university and punitive action by the police and Courts of Law.

The Police has been empowered by the Prohibition of Ragging and Other Forms of Violence in Educational Institutions Act, No. 20 of 1998 to take punitive action against the offenders through the Court of Law. The university administrations have been empowered through the UGC Circular No. 919 of 15th January 2010 which sets strict guidelines to curb the menace of ragging in the Universities/Higher Educational Institutes, to take stern action against those who commit any one of the unethical and unlawful activities listed below. Further, the UGC has given instructions through UGC Circular No. 902 of 1st December 2008 to all universities to make offenders accountable for any damages to the university property and charge the cost of damages from the responsible individuals or, reduce the cost of damages from the allocations made to student societies and councils.

Therefore, the punishment that would be imposed by the university may range from recovering damages and/or issuing a warning letter to temporary suspension for a period of time from academic work and/or university residential facilities and expulsion from the university in addition to the punishments imposed by a Court of Law.

- Students who leave university property insecurely exposing them to acts of vandalism will also be liable to pay damages
- In case of student agitations / social events resulting in vandalism, the organisers of such events will be liable to pay damages
- UGC has given instructions through UGC Circular No. 902 of 1st December 2008 to all universities to make offenders accountable for any damages to the university property and charge the cost of damages from the responsible individuals or, reduce the cost of damages from the allocations made to student societies and councils

4.14 UNAUTHORIZED ENTRY

- The university will be open to students throughout the day. however, some areas and facilities will have limited open hours and students need to honour such regulations
- Access to some public areas may be restricted from time to time due to examinations or other security matters. students should adhere to these regulations
- Security personnel will be responsible in implementing such restrictions and students should always follow their instructions on such matters. Any clarifications or doubts should be raised with the relevant administrative authority by the student representatives
- Anyone found trespassing is liable to be prosecuted under the common law of the land and be dealt with under the university disciplinary procedures

4.15 CO-OPERATION WITH AUTHORITIES AND COMMITTEES OF INQUIRY

- Universities appoint various committees of inquiry on disciplinary matters and empowered officers may summon students to provide verbal or written evidence. On such events it is necessary for students to cooperate with the authorities.
- If students fail to cooperate by being stubborn or by resisting the action taken by authorities, this may be construed as an act of disregard to the university authority and may become the cause for another disciplinary action.
- Students are strongly advised to cooperate with the authorities whenever requests for information are made.

4.16 RIGHT OF APPEAL

- Right of appeal is enshrined in the fundamental rights up until the level of the Supreme Court.
- This principle applies to the university as well, and therefore one can appeal to the Vice Chancellor against a decision given by the disciplinary authorities regarding any matter.
- This may be done collectively or individually and a fair hearing for such appeals will be given by the Vice Chancellor/Deputy Vice Chancellor through appropriate channels.

EXPECTATIONS AND RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE UNIVERSITY AND STUDENTS

The University of Kelaniya as of any other state universities is a community of individuals, both students and staff, with rights and responsibilities and commitment that help determine the ability of the university to maintain and enhance its fundamental role of teaching, learning, serving the community and research.

Student Charter outlines the commitment of the university of Kelaniya towards its students and states what the university in return, expects from students. The university, the parents, guardians and the public expect an equal level of commitment from the students as well. They are expected to comply with the institutional rules and regulations, and be groomed as model citizens who are very civic conscious and also who could act as models to the fellow citizens and act as change agents to bring desirable social transformation.

In this series of events to be fruitful, the students who excel in learning and discovery are rewarded, openness and innovation are encouraged, and widespread engagement with both internal and external communities is promoted. The university encourages all students to take advantage of considerable resources and benefits provided by the university, to contribute as part of a community of dedicated students, to be active participants in the many social and sporting activities that the university offers, and to be alumni achievers as leaders in their chosen area of work. As a member of the University community, the university also expects students to accept shared responsibility to conduct themselves in a manner consistent with the University's values and guiding principles in order to create and maintain a safe harmonious environment.
