

Guidelines for Publication Charges

In order to encourage the staff members for publishing in high-impact journals or other publications, the Research Council of the University of Kelaniya has implemented a support scheme of providing publication charges.

Therefore, the Research Council has introduced two options for publication Charges

- 1. Providing Cash Advance for the Payment of Publication Charges
- 2. Reimbursement of Publication Charges

The applicants should provide complete applications to the Chairman of the Research Council by the 3rd week of the month to be considered at the following Research Council Meetings. Publication charges are provided to the publications according to the terms and conditions stated in the Guidelines of the Research Council.

Common Terms and Conditions for Providing Publication Charges as Cash Advances or reimbursements

1. The applicant should be a member of the permanent staff of the University of Kelaniya
2. The applicant should be the first author or corresponding author. However, publication charges will be provided to permanent staff members for any authorship (even if they are not the first author or corresponding author) for the publications published in the year 2021
3. Publication charges can be applied for the following categories.
